

Intrinsic Innovations Signs a Partnership Agreement with Gateway

CALGARY, June 21, 2022 – Moving to a new country, new city, new life is hard and newcomers have many questions and challenges.

With the support of Immigration Refugees and Citizenship Canada, Immigrant Services Calgary (ISC) and partners established a collaborative that helps newcomers connect to the programs and services they need to make Calgary their new home.

Intrinsic Innovations (Intrinsic), is a Calgary-based incubator, focused on helping startups in the innovation space to move or expand to Alberta, and to make Canada more competitive on the global scale. In 2021, Intrinsic Innovations provided guidance, on the merits and the process of expanding their operations to Alberta, to over 40 international companies, and seeks to provide guidance to over 100 companies in 2022. Intrinsic strongly believes in the importance of the personal touch and the power of the community.

“Traditionally, the settlement sector in Calgary was siloed, with each organization functioning individually, rather than in coordination with one another. For newcomers entering the city, this meant there was no clear path of which services to access and when,” says Prianka Gill, Manager, Partner Success, Getaway.

“Our vision is to have Alberta recognized on the world-stage as a leader in technology commercialization, and to continue the evolution of Alberta as an emerging global technology leader, while retaining talent, companies, and IP in Alberta,” says Andrew Sanden, Founder and CEO of Intrinsic. “This can only be achieved if newcomers get the support they need from our community, which is why we look forward to working with Gateway.”

Gateway partners work collaboratively to ensure all newcomers are given appropriate referrals and clear directions on how to quickly achieve their personal and professional goals. Our Gateway partnership will benefit newcomers interested in starting new businesses or moving their existing business to Alberta.
